

Terms of Use

Status: 01.01.2017

The following terms of use apply between ProPilots GmbH and the company concluding a corresponding subscription contract for one or more products of ProPilots GmbH.

§ 1

Subscription contract

By confirming these Terms of Use and subscribing, the Company acquires the right to use the knowledge management - e-learning portal - it subscribes to. The total annual amount (12 or 24 months) is agreed individually with the Company and is payable in advance. Upon receipt of payment, the Company will immediately receive your personalized access data for the Administrator as well as the agreed number of employee licenses.

Intellectual property

ProPilots GmbH and its respective licensors reserve all copyrights and other protective rights to the content of this website and to the animation modules, in particular to texts, illustrations, graphics, layouts, images, audio and video and to the selection and arrangement thereof as well as to all other information on the website (collectively, the "content of the website"). The contents of the website may not be reproduced, distributed, rented, loaned, presented, publicly reproduced, made accessible to the public, edited, adapted, redesigned or used in any other way without the prior written consent of ProPilots GmbH. The only exception is documents that the company has created itself and entered into the system via ProPilots. The documents, presentations, images and questions created by ProPilots are listed in the offer in writing so that both parties agree which documents were created by which party.

The user is only permitted to technically reproduce the website for the purpose of browsing (access to the website and presentation of the contents of the website).

The rights to all trademarks (brands, business names and titles) used on the website are reserved for their respective owners.

§ 3

Liability

The contents of the website - knowledge platform - are not legally binding. ProPilots assumes no responsibility for the accuracy, completeness and timeliness of the content of the website. In particular, ProPilots does not warrant that the website will be uninterruptedly accessible, error-free, virus-free or secure or that the content of the website can be downloaded safely.

With the exception of damages caused intentionally or through gross negligence by ProPilots, ProPilots shall not be liable for damages resulting from the use of this website. The ProPilots training documents reflect the current state of science and teaching. Corresponding system updates are already included in the license fees. The customer must tolerate the installation of the updates.

Aviation regulation: The materials contained in the animation modules are intended exclusively for training and demonstration purposes. In case of a dangerous situation during the operation of an aircraft, the instructions of the respective flight manual of the manufacturer "Flight Manual" of the respective aircraft always have absolute priority and must be observed and applied by the pilot.

You may only use this website in compliance with these terms of use and for lawful and proper purposes. In particular, it is forbidden to use software, procedures or equipment that manually or electronically interfere with the operation or functionality of the website or cause an inappropriate or excessive load on this website.
